Charity Show – MacMillan Nurses

Saturday, September 17, 2011 • 7:00pm – 11:30pm

South Harrow Cricket Club
Roxeth Recreation Ground, Kingley Road
South Harrow HA2
London, United Kingdom

Doug Sandom, who played drums for The Detours and The Who from 1962 until 1964, is putting on one of the world's best Who tribute bands - Who's Who - for a charity show to raise money for MacMillan Nurses!

It'll be a great night, starting at 7pm and carrying on until late. Who's Who are Doug's personal pick of Who Tribute bands and MacMillan Nurses are a great cause, providing care and support to the families and sufferers of cancer.

So, if you fancy a trip to Doug's stomping ground of North West London, to have a great night of music and support the man himself in raising a decent few quid for a great cause, then please get in touch. Tickets are £14.

Please note, this is not a Who Convention, but it will be a great night of live music and Doug would love to have your support and see you there!
