PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AMAZING JOURNEY: THE STORY OF THE WHO and AMAZING JOURNEY: SIX QUICK ONES
Two-Film DVD set to be released on November 5, 2007
From Universal Studios Home Entertainment

Amazing Journey: The Story of The Who, an exhilarating feature-length film about one of the seminal and most influential rock bands in history, produced by Spitfire Pictures in association with Trinifold Management, will be released by Universal Studios Home Entertainment on DVD on November 5, 2007.

The special edition double disc DVD comes with a second feature film Amazing Journey: Six Quick Ones, a Collector's Edition booklet and exclusive unseen DVD Bonus content.

Spanning over four decades, Amazing Journey: The Story of The Who reintroduces The Who now and to generations-to-come, as it tells one of the greatest stories of rock. The film tells the unfolding story of The Who and how they have straddled the rock world for forty years, in a tale as gripping in adventure, life and personality as the searing power of their music. The film features all-new, exclusive, never-before-seen interviews with Pete Townshend, Roger Daltrey and others, rare and recently discovered concert footage, artist profiles and much, much more, all in 5.1 Surround Sound.

Music greats including Sting, U2's The Edge, Pearl Jam's Eddie Vedder and Oasis' Noel Gallagher, offer insightful commentaries on The Who's indelible influence. Alongside a collector's booklet and exclusive never-before seen DVD bonus content, this set comprises one of music's most collectible and comprehensive compilations ever assembled about one of rock's greatest bands.

Beginning with their first hit single "I Can't Explain," The Who emerged from Mod-Era London to electrify the world with their unique sound. The music and live performances of Pete Townshend, Roger Daltrey, John Entwistle and Keith Moon tore through the existing boundaries of rock. The band has recorded 11 remarkable albums, including the world's first rock opera Tommy, and the ensuing masterwork Quadrophenia. The British legends produced some of the most compelling and original music of the era, including the songs, "Won't Get Fooled Again," "Happy Jack," "Pictures of Lily" and the immortal "My Generation." The feature film brings the band's story right up to date with footage from the band's recent tour and tracks from the band's first album in two decades 'Endless Wire'.

IN ADDITION, THE DVD SET CONTAINS THE FOLLOWING ADDED BONUSES:

- The Scrapbook: Five Additional Insider Insights into the World of The Who:
- Dinner with Moon
- A Legal Matter
- Won't Get Fooled Again
- Cincinnati: The Whole Story
- Royal Albert Hall 2000
- The High Numbers at the Railway Hotel: The earliest footage of the band known to be in existence, seen in its entirety here for the first time.

2 Disc Collectors Edition with booklet available (£24.99) and standard edition (£19.99) available from 5th November.
